As free India was born, the Government of India announced a comprehensive industrial policy, empowering itself to set up infrastructure to manufacture a host of critical products. It was from this authority that Bharat Electronics Limited (BEL) was established in 1954 under the Ministry of Defence to meet the specialised electronic needs of the Indian

Defence. Today, BEL has grown into a multi-product, multi- technology, multi-unit conglomerate empowering the nation's armed forces to guard the country's frontiers with state-of-the-art products and systems in the areas of Radars & Fire Control Systems, Missile Systems, Communication & C4I systems, Electronic Warfare & Avionics, Naval Systems & Antisubmarine Warfare Systems, Electro Optics, Tank Electronics & Gun Upgrades, and Strategic Components.

The Coastal Surveillance System developed for strengthening surveillance of India's over-7,500-km-long coastline is being offered to friendly countries. BEL has made giant strides in Radars with the induction of Weapon Locating Radar and 3D Tactical Control Radar.

Though Defence is its mainstay, BEL has made a mark in non-Defence too. BEL's tamper-proof Electronic Voting Machines have revolutionised the voting system in India, making the process transparent and tamper-proof. When the country wanted its services the most, BEL manufactured 30,000 ICU Ventilators in a record time to help the Government combat the Covid pandemic.

BEL has been doing its bit to promote the Government's Make in India initiative by laying strong thrust on in-house R&D and indigenisation, outsourcing from Indian private industries, Public-Private Partnerships, Joint Ventures, capacity expansion and modernisation. The company has created a 'Make in India Cell' to implement its outsourcing policy.
